In the following day boarded a her a few articles; all of which eered piracy, and for which re-determined, if possible, to take d of the brig; accordingly, on Oct. I with some difficulty en-in the following manner, hav-the greater part of the crew me, by giving me a letter reme to take command of the brig, arry her to a British American Anthony, one of the Cape de-lands, being then in sight, dis-at 14 miles. I hoisted out the col-put a sufficient quantity of pro-etc. in her—I then ordered capt. eraphine Coro Y. Senders, Esq., tain, and nine others into her these pirates, capt. Burke ed to rob a British merchant that he might all in with. After command of the brig the crew very disorderly state, and intended to kill each other. On let, it was represented to us they were forming a plan to vessel from me; on hearing of put them in irons, and confined a number of the others were ing among themselves. That I ruin with the brig; seeing that ance would be of no avail, I to acquiesce, at the same time ed, if possible, to carry the tain, and to avoid the trial of t vessels. On the 7th Oct. all the Glenbervie, when a number ew were determined to plunder passengers and crew, of every tons, sails uncommonly fast and it suited them; so prevent which the purpose of ascertaining what ould obtain assistance. I went the Glenbervie, and after conwith Capt. Evans, perceived I an opportunity of disclosing what el was, etc. I returned again when a number of the crew en-claimed "it would be a d-d shame to let the ship go, we will overhaul her." asked them what they would overhaul her for—their answer was, that they had seen a great number of people on board with watches, and that they knew there must be valuables in the ship, which they were determined to have. It was obvious to me that if they boarded the ship themselves, and the least resistance was given, they would not hesitate at any crime.

Considering these circumstances, I was resolved to go along with them, but after having got near the ship, I was, from appearance, apprehensive of their charging muskets.—I again pulled back to the brig, and hoisted a Carthaginian flag, at the same time hailed the Ship, telling the captain that he had better allow me to send the boat on board under these colors, wishing, if possible, to prevent the loss of lives; at this time the men placed themselves at the guns exceedingly anxiously to fire upon the ship, until I threatened them that the first man that attempted to fire a gun without my orders, I would instantly blow out his brains.
I would instantly blow out his brains.
they then agreed that the master should be brought on board with his papers, which I at first refused, saying that I would again go on board with them myself.—"No," said they, "it is too much condescension, we will make him come on board of us with his papers."—I then said, to satisfy them, I would send for him, for which purpose I ordered five men into the boat, with orders not to touch a single article, or insult any person on board—but say to the Captain that I wished to see him on board with his ship's papers, in a short time they returned with the chief mate and the papers.— I took the mate below and looked at his papers, but could not get my mind disclosed to him, as a number of the crew followed him, and stood over the hatch-way.—I told the officer not to alarm himself, that it was merely for a certain purpose I had sent for the papers, and that they were not all there—but to lay his vessel to rest to night, and give himself no uneasiness; that I should come on board in the morning to see the rest of the papers, and that then I should let the capt. know what else I wanted with him.
I ordered the men to put the mate on board his own ship, which they complied with. When they returned, they were intent on robbing the ship, or to place five or six men on board that night, to prevent, as they said, the passengers and others from concealing their effects. I caused the boat to be hoisted up, telling them that they might depend on the consequences if they offered to lower her; after much altercation, they with great reluctance agreed to it.
At 6 o'clock the following morning I caused the boat to be lowered, and with five men in her, went on board the ship; I then went with capt. Evans into his cabin and requested him to send his steward on deck and call any of the passengers down that he might think proper, with his chief mate and I would then let him know what the vessel was and my intentions, which he accordingly did.— I then stated to him the prior occurences and that the crew of the brig were determined to rob the vessel and all persons on board, and, as I have before mentioned, considered the ship in the greatest danger; but that I would lay before him a plan I had formed for the preservation of the whole; upon which he requested me to state the plan, which I did, viz: that I would send a boat crew on board which I requested he would seize and secure, upon which he would give me a signal, and that I would prevent any danger that he might otherwise expect from the brig. Upon consideration, he thought my proposal correct, and that he would do every thing in his power to assist me in effecting this. I then parted with captain Evans, and immediately repaired to the brig, and ordered the boat's crew to get ready to go on board of the ship; upon this, James A. lexander came to me, requesting to know if ten men might not go in the boat. I at first refused, but upon recollection, thought that it would be best to allow ten of them to go; but I told them it was unnecessary, as the men on board the ship were not armed, and that if they showed any resistance, I would destroy the ship. Satisfied with this, they went off—they were not many minutes in the ship, when I saw the signal; I then called all the men aft, on board the brig, saying to them, that I had taken the brig for piracy, and that I was determined that a piratical action should never be committed with her, whilst under my charge; and that if any of them attempted to speak of piracy, I would shoot them.
This had the desired effect. I then ran the brig alongside the Glenbervie, and told captain Evans that all was safe. It was then thought requisite that I should come on board of the Glenbervie, that a statement might be drawn out of the proceedings, and to consult on the nearest and best port to carry the brig. I was only a short time on board the Glenbervie, when the brig dropt anchor, taking with her the second mate and one seaman belonging to the Glenbervie, who were sent on board to take charge of her in my absence. She made all sail to the northwest.

the coast of Morocco, arrived at Moga-dore on the 28th of Oct. ransomed. The chief mate and three seamen still remained some where in the interior; but the their release, which was expected. Mr.

Porter arrived at this place on Wednesdays passage.

which brought a minister to treat with Pellon and Christophe, sailed for Ja-

ALEXANDRIA
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20,
FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT
AT WASHINGTON.
Thursday, Dec. 19.
The committee have at length bro't forth their report upon the compensation bill.—It was read this day in the House of Representatives and ordered to be printed. When it goes abroad, every man, whatever his predeterminations respecting the compensation act may be, provided he have pretensions to taste, to judgment or integrity, will be delighted in reading one of the most admirable state papers that ever appeared in any age or country. The committee deserve not only the gratitude of the Union, but the respect of all thinking men, for the intrepidity and yet modesty with which they assert their opinions in contradiction to the clamour that has been raised against that act. In that respect the report is a dignified display of political wisdom. Nor will the man of letters be less pleased with it as a specimen of composition than the statesman for its valuable principles. For lucid arrangement, perspi-cuity, cogent argument, and with all these, simplicity and vigour of style, I know nothing superior to it—few indeed equal, unless we go back to those master pieces which distinguished Edmund Burke in his day, as a writer of state papers, if such a thing were possible, still more than as an orator. The impression it made on the House was astonishing; and when the short proceedings that arose out of it were brought to a close, a buzz of conversation upon its merits for some minutes precluded the possibility of the business that followed it being attended to or heard.
After the report was read, a bill was produced by the chairman of the committee, the object of which is to restore the former per diem mode of compensation. The committee mention 12 dollars a day as being at this day a compensation no more than commensurate to the allowance of six at the time that sir was enacted. This bill was read twice and ordered to a committee of the whole house but respecting the day on which it wa-to be brought under the consideration of the committee, a difference of sentiment arose. Mr. Nelson, of Va. and Mr.
Barbour, urged the adoption of tomorrow.
Mr. Johnson, Mr. Grosvenor, Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Pickering, and Mr. Gaston, were for giving members more time to consider that able report; more particularly as several facts were stated in it of which even Mr. Pickering himself declared he had been, till then, ignorant; which facts, it is whispered, the committee obtained from the venerable Mr. Findley. In conclusion: the reference to the committee of the whole was made the order of the day for the second Monday in January.
For the composition of the Report the public are indebted, it is said, to Mr. Webster.
The committee on Mr. Pickens's resolution, for altering the constitution then resumed its sitting, Gen. Smith in the chair. The resolution was, on motion of Mr. Huger, divided into two parts, which in their nature are distinct from each other; the first relating wholly to the election of representatives—the second to the election of electors, of president and vice president. On putting the question on the former Mr. Randolph opposed it with his accustomed force and animation on the following grounds, viz. That it went to destroy the constitution by not only abridging the powers of the states, but charging the terms of the compromise that was the very basis of the government, and at the same time to diminish the relative power of these large states without at all impairing that of the smaller ones.— In the course of his argument which displayed a profound knowledge of the Constitution, in its elementary principles, he insisted that our government is not a popular government, but a government of compromise, else why, he asked, were our statute books stained with the word Slave, and how came the senate to be composed as it is. He wa-very eloquent, but the sense of the house was against him, and that portion of the resolution passed by 86 to 38.

On the second part being brought up, with an amendment, he again spoke with great vivacity and earnestness, and he was answered by Mr. Gaston, who hailed the amendment as a fortunate event, and said that no one could witness the disgraceful practices on the eye of every presidential election, without giving his hearty assent to some alteration.
The hour growing late, the committees rose, reported progress and obtained leave to sit again.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,
BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,
Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York, A FRESH SUPPLY
Of the following genuine Medicines.
For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.
It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.
Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.
And the symptoms by which they are known:
Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Terebra, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short flat, white worm; and lastly, the Taenia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance; and sometimes the face oated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of chint—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands of the infant part of our citizens it is likewise the mildest and most certain, remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number, when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.
Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic, gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.
The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals. (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.
The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.
This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.
Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication or any other destructive intemperance, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.
Sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthmas, sore throats, and approaching Consumptions, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.
Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.
Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.
Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.
Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.
For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.
Hahn's true & genuine Gynan Corn Plaster.
At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Five Dollars Reward.
Ran away on the 7th December a Negro boy named John Carter, about 15 years and three or four months old—said John Carter is an apprentice to Messrs Smith, a cooper; had on a pair of dark cloth pantaloons, a white vest, and a blue round jacket, a black fur hat, bright complexion, about five feet high, has a tolerable good education sufficient to keep small accounts; he plays tolerably well on a violin. I expect he is about his father's or his uncle Thomas Brad-dock's as he has some notion of learning the carpenter's business. I will give the above reward if taken out of the corporation, and two dollars if in the corporation. Masters of vessels, and all others, are cautioned against harboring or carrying off the said John Carter at their peril, as the law will be put in force against any such person.
